
Online Computer Classes at Lynda.com

Take a variety of courses at your own pace. If you don't have internet access or a computer at home, come to the library!

You will need to have your library card number and your account password to log in to Lynda.com. Once you create an account, you can come back to your class at any time.

Tutorials available for

- Business Skills
- Adobe Creative Programs
- Microsoft Office
- Website Building
- Computer Literacy
- Photography

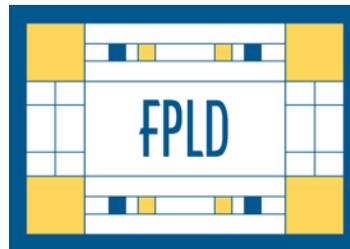

... and much, much more!

We're here to help.

Learn more about the resources available through your library.

Did you know that you can read and listen to electronic books, stream movies, research a variety of topics, learn a new language, build a family tree, get homework help, or listen to music—no matter where you are?

Whether you bring in your own computer or prefer to use one of the public computers at the library, we're happy to help you learn how to take advantage of the library's digital resources.

Fremont Public Library District
1170 N. Midlothian Road
Mundelein, IL 60060
847-566-8702
fremontlibrary.org

Computer & Device Help at Fremont Public Library District

Learn how to use your computer, e-reader, or other device to access great library services.

What is this service?

We offer free one-on-one 45-minute sessions of basic help with how to use your tablets, laptops, or smartphones to access library e-materials, databases, and the online catalog.

When is help offered?

We offer appointments at 10 a.m. on Monday, Friday, and Saturday.

To sign up for a slot, or to request an alternate appointment time, call 847-918-3225 or stop by the Reader's Service Desk on the first floor.

Computer Classes

For those who prefer a group-learning environment, we encourage you to sign up for one of the library's computer classes. Check the latest newsletter for our current class options. Space is limited and registration is required.

Who provides the help?

Our tech-savvy librarians provide this service. Because we are not experts in all technology, our help is meant to be an introduction only. For some patrons, we may reach our limits as to our abilities to help with a specific device or program.

Our help may also be limited by the compatibility of your device with our resources.

What to bring with?

Please bring your device fully charged, as well as any passwords or logins. If you are using library databases or e-resources, please have your library card number ready.

Please Note:

We are unable to help with internet inquiries which involve access to bank accounts, credit card numbers, or personal info on dating sites. We are also unable to help troubleshoot hardware issues with your laptop or mobile device. For these types of questions, please seek a professional computer consultant.